

Students who have a creative streak are being encouraged to take part in one of Kerrang! Radio's latest competitions – Clear the Smoke, in conjunction with Smokefree West Midlands. Kerrang! Radio are inviting entries from people aged between 17 and 24 years old who have a view on smoking and tobacco industry practices.

Entrants can choose between category 1 – where they write a script for a 40 second airtime commercial or category 2 where entrants have to design a skyscraper and feature page for a website. Winners of each of the categories have the chance to win £150 of Bullring vouchers and the chance to have their script to be made into an advert which will be aired on Kerrang! Radio, or their web design could be hosted on a stop smoking website.

For more details, terms and conditions and where to send your entry, please go to www.kerrangradio.co.uk. The closing date is March 14 2010.
