

The Telford College Student Council have held their first meeting of the year today. The council met up at lunchtime to introduce themselves following a successful election campaign. As part of the meeting, Principal Jan Ellis and Chair of Governors Mike Lowe attended the event, as well as Leah Tirmizi from Vinolved who all spoke the students about how they can make a difference both within the College and the local community. The Student Council has 15 members in total, who are all keen to promote the College, as well as encourage students to become involved in activities and fundraisers for charities.

Over the next academic year, the Student Council will be responsible for encouraging other students from across the College to get involved and make a difference, as well as represent the student body at various different meetings and events.
